Mimi Cosgrove

2647 Linwood
Naples, Florida 33940

Mimi wrote in February that she is now at the University of Miami doing graduate study in the field of education. She will be a teacher intern in the Teacher Corps Program until July 1971 and plans to be in Miami all summer.

Sp. 4 Timothy Dunsworth

470-56-5403

A Company, 656th Eng. Bn.
APO, New York 09081

Tim wrote recently from Germany, where he is now posted, "Thank you for sending the recent Alumni News. It was indeed of interest to me. After a year at Yale, I withdrew and spent the summer travelling at my ease by plane and motorcycle, and then entered the army in October. After basic training at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, I was posted to Germany. I am currently working as a map compiler at a post in Schwetzingen, Germany, a small town in the Heidelberg/Mannheim area. I have not travelled as much as I had hoped to, but I still enjoy being in Germany very much and I anticipate a pleasant tour of duty until my 'ETS' in October of 1971. Beyond that date I have no plans."

Nancy (Clayton) Giese (Mrs. Alan C.)

Tuslog Det. 48-1

APO, New York 09254

A son, Scott, weighing 8 pounds 8 ounces, was born on January 26 to Fay and Alan Giese. They have a daughter, Kim, one year and nine months old.

Carol (Worby) Holder (Mrs. Owen B., Jr.)

2149 F Street

La Verne California 91750

News from the Holders, received in January is that Bud is studying for the degree of Master of Fine Arts in Sculpture at Claremont Graduate School, while Carol is a Lecturer in English at the California State Polytechnic College in Pomona.

Pauline Jung

1100 Clove Road

Staten Island, New York 10301

Pauline is now the cataloguer in the library at Staten Island Community College. She expects to start soon on her second masters, in Literature, having received her M.S. in Library Science from the University of North Carolina in August 1968.

Maureen (Spear) and Dennis Kezar

Reported at Christmas that their "reproduction" their eighteen month old son "is really becoming a little boy — walking, talking, and generally getting into trouble"

Denise Miller

166 Gravel Street, C-21

Meriden, Connecticut 06054

Denny wrote in January "teaching fourth grade, inner city (black), in New Haven. Have release time (2-½ days a week) to visit schools in EdCom (formerly CBS Creative Playthings) Social Studies project — evaluation, revision."

Tim Dunsworth writes Denny "is currently living in her own apartment in Meriden, Connecticut and teaching in the public system in New Haven. She has discovered in the past year, to her surprise and pleasure, that she is quite a good teacher. She keeps busy with night education courses and her work on a new social studies curriculum she is helping to develop in the New Haven schools."

Vicki (Pearthree) and Charles F. Raeburn

32-½ Vernon Street

New Haven, Connecticut 06519

The Raeburns reported in January "Charlie will take the New York State Bar Exam in July after graduation from Yale Law School. He will then be associated with the Wall Street Law Firm of Breed, Abbott & Morgan, 1 Chase Manhattan Plaza, New York, New York 10005. Vicki is in her second year of Graduate School at Yale, in Cognitive Psychology. She will be a teaching assistant this Spring in the Under-Graduate Section of Human Learning."

Scott Rattet

536 Judah Avenue

San Francisco, California 94122

Timothy Dunsworth wrote that Scott is working in the Post Office Department in San Francisco and is taking night classes at local state schools "as opportunities present themselves."

David Rollow

1870 Queensway

Chamblee, Georgia 30005

David has just had published a long short story which also has been sold to the movies. He was to have started on the script for the motion picture in December. Entitled "Dean and Frieda," the story was published by Bantam Books in an anthology of work by young writers under the auspices of the Associated Writing Program. Directed by Critic and novelist R. V. Cassill of Brown University, the program is an organization that links active writing programs in the country. The anthology, "Intro No. 2," is the second volume of collected works by young writers. Now at Cornell University, where he has held a teaching assistantcy for two years, David has earned the Master of Fine Arts degree in writing and is at work on his Ph. D. In addition, he has just completed another work — a 325-page novel, on which he worked for three years.

Thomas R. Todd

84 Howe Street, Apartment 203

New Haven, Connecticut 06511

Tom took off two days from his studies at Yale Law School, from which he expects to graduate in June, to attend his second meeting last December as a member of the Board of Trustees of New College. In an interview at that time by the Sarasota Herald-Tribune Tom said "he believes that half of his job as a Trustee of New College is to communicate what the Trustees think, and why, to the students. The process works both ways. The students are able to approach me more easily to give me their own viewpoints. That's good, because there is never enough contact between students and trustees." Tom is interested in practicing Corporate, Estate and Tax Law. He is now working part time for a New Haven Law firm doing research and "like it."

Class of 1968

Class Correspondent: Jerrold L. Neugarten, 6 Hurlbut Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

Betsy (Ash) and Kenji Oda

3451 Lake Street, No. 302

Falls Church, Virginia 22041

Kenji wrote in January "Just for those who haven't heard, we got married June '69 in Sarasota. We are living in an apartment in a commuter suburb of Washington, D.C. Betsy's teaching (3rd Grade). I put my B.A. to good use by accepting a position at the local Burger Chef, but I quit a couple of weeks ago when they told me I had a real future there. Right now I'm about to start working as a tax-return Consultant. There's not much else to tell, except that we're the parents of Octuplets, and they're all named Neugy."

Edna (Walker) and S. Lawrence Paulson

48 Hill Street, Apartment 9B

Morristown, New Jersey 07960

Laurie wrote in January "I'm copy desk chief for Morris County's Daily Record a 40,000-daily paper published here in Morristown. Edna is a laboratory technician at nearby Allied Chemical Corp. We don't like this apartment. We're planning to visit Iceland this summer."

Edwin H. Schuck, III

Washington University

School of Medicine

660 South Euclid Avenue

St. Louis, Missouri 63110

Pat's father, Dr. Edwin H. Schuck, Jr., wrote in December "Pat is doing well in medical school. I believe he becomes daily more nostalgic about his unique New College under-graduate experience."

Cheryl (McWhorter) Star (Mrs. William J.)
6426 South West 30th Street
Miami, Florida 33155

Cheryl reports "I am currently working as Assistant Music Librarian at the University of Miami, completing some education courses for my certification to teach Mathematics, and am doing various symphony jobs both here in Miami and also in Ft. Lauderdale. Although I enjoy the library work, I am anxious to begin teaching, especially the Junior High School level. By September I hope to be teaching math in the public schools, and music lessons on a private basis."

Class of 1969

Class Correspondent: Nancy Orr, 1038 Post Avenue, Holland, Michigan 49423

Lawrence H. Dunlap, Jr.

1315 Quarry Lane
Lancaster, Pennsylvania 17603

"Hal Dunlap writes that he's 'plugging away' at Dartmouth and 'playing tag (no bases)' with his draft board." He doesn't feel he's making much news.

Nancy (Flatter) and Steven W. Hall

302 Harvard Street
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138
Steve was one of three students entering the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration last September, to be awarded a J. Spencer Love Fellowship. This two-year study program leads to the degree of Master in Business Administration, in 1971.

Gary M. Moriello

3011 Heath Avenue, Apartment 20
Bronx, New York 10463
Gary Moriello is "half done with my first year field placement from Smith and doing well. Psychiatric Social Work still getting harder and harder..." He doesn't feel he's making news, but writes "New York City is both great and terrible at the same time."

Richard F. Ogburn

142 South West 52nd Terrace
Ft. Lauderdale, Florida 33314
Dick Ogburn writes "I'm in Graduate School at the Center for Latin American Studies, U.F., pursuing an inter-disciplinary Masters in Latin American studies with emphasis on the economics and politics of underdevelopment. As chairman (and only official) of the Latin American Colloquium, a group funded by the Center, but run by and for graduate students, I am responsible for inviting and arranging bi-monthly speakers on topics related to research in/on Latin America today." He also says "routine and superfluous requirements leave him free to cultivate many extra-curricular activities."

Nancy Orr

Nancy reports "I have begun some Education courses at Hope College here in Holland."

CLASS NOTES

Class of 1970

Kit Arbuckle and Sharon Shelton, both New College students who will graduate in June, plan to be married in July in Washington State. Kit has just returned from several months in India where he has been studying religious philosophies of that country. While at New College, Kit has been an active member of the New College Student Speakers Bureau. Following graduation he plans to continue his studies in the field of theology and to become a minister.

George Duffee-Braun and his wife, Linda, became the parents of a baby boy, Patrick Scott, on January 8. George will graduate from New College in March. He is in charge of the Student Management System on Campus.

Zella Ellshoff left New College Campus in December to be at the New York Botanical Gardens through March, where she is working as part of an Independent Study Project. There she will gain some valuable experience in botanical work and knowledge necessary to make a real start on the New College Herbarium. One of the purposes of Zella's study is to be able to start a good working collection in New College's own herbarium. She says "Specimens can be traded with other institutions or gardens to result in a good collection of Florida fauna." Zella, who is majoring in biology with strong emphasis on botany, is performing the work of herbarium assistant at the Gardens to gain technical experience and knowledge in museum operation and management, taxonomic work, and the preparation for filing of new species. She plans to graduate in June and hopes to train another student to assume care of the herbarium after her departure.

Barbara Reeves' range of activities at New College are many. A musician who studies serious music, she is also a composer of original work. She has been a volunteer in the student program tutoring disadvantaged youngsters, a member of the Student Speakers Bureau, and a member of the student yearbook staff. As a member of the Student Speakers Bureau for two years, she has addressed local clubs and organizations on economic and governmental topics, as well as on New College. She has also been assisting the Admissions Office with student recruitment for the class which will enter in the Fall of 1970. Barbara, a clarinetist, was a New College Summer Music Festival student last year. Although an original composition of hers, "very modern," was performed as part of the humanities core program for first year students, she prefers the baroque period and started playing in a campus chamber music group last year. Campus newsboy (for the New York Times and an area newspaper), photographic model, library reference assistant are some of the many jobs she does to make money for graduate school where she hopes to major in economics. She plans to graduate from New College in June.
